

I don't want to be in university now because everyone will look at me and say, "How strange!" so I won't go there, and no one will play or chat with me because they are older than me by many years!

Everyone will walk away from me. And it will be silly because I am not of the same age as them and I will feel bored every day. I will have nothing to do every day.

I don't want to be as smart as Michael (Keatney) because I want to enjoy my life as a child.

A Wonderful Camping experience

Last summer, I went camping in the mountains with my friends. We arrived at our campsite just as the sun was setting, painting the sky with beautiful colours. Setting up our tents was a fun challenge, filled with laughter. We took a moment to enjoy the stunning view of a nearby lake surrounded by tall trees.

As night fell, we gathered around the campfire. The warm glow of the flames felt cozy as we shared stories and roasted marshmallows for smores. The sounds of nature filled the air, leaves rustling down and distant animal calls, making the night feel magical. We laughed a lot, making memories that we would cherish.

The next morning, we woke up to birds singing with sunlight streaming through the trees. After a tasty breakfast, we hiked on nearby trails, discovering pretty views along the way. Each moment was filled with joy! As we packed to leave, we promised to return, knowing this camping trip had brought us closer together and created unforgettable memories.

The selection day and the First Match
After she practiced hard, the selection finally came. Ashley was really nervous and she hoped she could be the chosen one.

The selection finally started. Ashley played really well and she had been chosen in the basketball team. She was really happy and she cried.

She practiced really seriously for every basketball practice. Her hard work paid off and she had been chosen to play in the match against the team "Best in the basketball".

The match started. They were losing by many points at the beginning but she didn't give up. They played really well although they still lost. Ashley was really proud of herself at the end.

First day at school

I woke up earlier than before because it is my first day in primary school. I felt nervous but felt a bit excited for my new school life. I also felt scared that no-one will talk to me. I brush my teeth and change my clothes before I ate my breakfast.

Then my mum took me to the school's bus stop and got on the bus in less than 3 minutes. I saw a lot of new faces because some of them are tall and fat. The student sat next to me called Jasmine talked to me and we are in the same class. What a surprise! When we arrived at school, I saw a huge and new school in front of me. I walked to the first floor with my friend Jasmine and went to Class 1C. The class teacher Ms Lam is nice and she arranged for me to sit with Jasmine. During recess we ate snacks and play together.

I felt happy and joyful for my first day of school!

Today was a school day. I usually arrive at 8:00 am, but yesterday I promised Vice-principal Koo to prepare for the SimCity, which is an activity of using English all day at school.

When I arrived at school, it was just 6:15 a.m. - nobody was at school until 6:30 a.m. Principal Wan came to school with some other teachers. When he saw me, he asked me who I was, and I showed him my student card. Then he opened the door and said, "Please wait here, Vice-principal Koo will ^{here} arrive soon." When she came, I started working with her.

I was proud ^{because} I was so early!
