

The Egg

E-Smart Learning Centre

In the deep sea, an egg lay on the sand. It had been there for a while and no sea animal knew what kind of egg it was. But during these few days, it had some cracks on the surface.

Soon, the whole coral reef was worried about the egg. Every fish talked about it and they were worried. "What if it is a monster inside?" Jeff, one of the fish, asked. Nobody answered him as they were all very scared about it.

In the Fishy Court, fish were communicating about the mysterious egg. Everyone was frightened when Jeff ran into the Fishy Court. He told the fish his opinion, "There is a monster in it. Put it on the shore, so it wouldn't harm us." An octopus agreed.

After the election, the fish decided to put it on a shore. The next day, a hundred fish carried the egg together onto the shore and it took them two hours to do that. Fish were cheering "Hooray!" happily as there was no harm for them anymore.

A few days later, the egg hatched. A fish bounced out of it. The fish is what we call the Mudskipper.

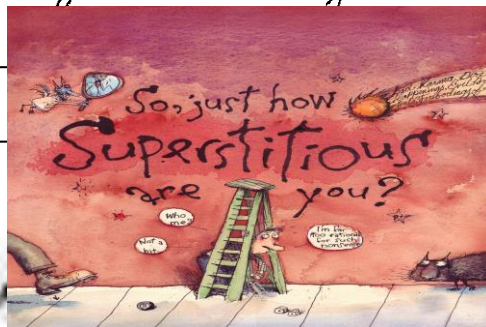

Nic, Leung Lik Yan WTE6B

Aug 2016

An unlucky classmate

I interviewed my classmates at school but only one of my classmates knew a superstition — walking under a ladder brings you bad luck. He told me the story that how he knew this superstition... On the 5th of January, 2014 when my friend Qiyun Lo was walking back home, he tried to walk under a ladder. His dad said, "Walking under a ladder brings you bad luck." However, he already walked under it and some paint dropped onto his head. When he went home, he knocked his head on the wall and felt dizzy and dropped on the floor. Finally, his mum and dad took him to the hospital and he said he was feeling better. The story ends here and he now believes it's true. This superstition is not real but maybe he was unlucky that day! Hee hee hee! 😊

Colin Chak

WTE4A

Aug 2016

Having friends is important
Having friends is important, they make our lives different.

First, we have fun with our friends. We play games together every day. For example, Zombie Tag, Everything Tag and Paper-Rock-Scissors.

Second, friends are willing to help when you are in trouble. When I don't know how to do my homework, they will help me.

Third, friends will be my listeners when I am sad. I am happy after they listen to my story.

Fourth, friends encourage each other. They push me to improve. I am fearless because of them.

Friends are precious, they always stand by my side and they make me a better person.

Jade Chan

WTE 4B Mon 5:30

Aug 2016

Terror In the Airport

After I informed the airport official, I led them to the place where the parcel was located. People were in a state of panic that they hurried to leave the airport. They evacuated hastily and the airport was a pandemonium.

I felt I was in menace as I was in such a short distance from the parcel, so I backed away from it with three steps. 'Right there,' I stammered. The airport official looked at where I was pointing and there was the parcel. He looked startled and called the police immediately.

The clock was ticking. If it was a bomb, it would blast right in front of us. I was holding my hands and wished the police could come faster. The police came finally in a huge team; they brought a lot of equipment and instruments along to detect the parcel. They wore armor to protect themselves; they handled the parcel discreetly with steady maneuver. But then, they didn't want to risk any body's life so they used a robot machine to open the box in a vacant area.

The robot cut the parcel open; there was some noise inside the parcel. Everyone grasped for breath. The parcel was opened but nothing happened.

The police walked there and took a look. Oh! There was just a clock, a glamorous, expensive clock. It was still ticking.

It turned out to be a false alarm. After a few days, the owner of the clock got it back and apologized for his mistake by leaving the parcel in the airport, which caused a turmoil.

Kelvin Sien
WTE8A
Aug 2016

Going to the Beach

I went to the beach yesterday. It was very hot at the beach. I felt very happy because the beach was very beautiful. It was full of trees and bushes. There were also many people at the beach.

I did many things at the beach. I raced in and out of the waves and built sandcastles. I also explored on my own and roasted a hot dog over a fire.

When I got to the beach, I wore a swimming suit. I built a sandcastle with my sister. It was big and beautiful. Suddenly, the sandcastle collapsed. A crab made our sandcastle fall! I was angry.

I raced in and out of the waves. It was fun to do that. I found that there was something under my left foot. So I dived in to the water to explore the thing under my foot. It was a shell! It was so hard that it made my foot bleed.

I ran towards my mum. She put a bandage on it and she let me roasted a hot dog over a fire. After I roasted the hot dog, I ate the hot dog. It was yummy.

I felt delighted to go to the beach. It was a very interesting day!

Veronica Ho

WTE 4B

Aug 2016

